

Obituary Guideline

An obituary is a notice of a death that includes a brief biography of the deceased. There is no right or wrong way to write an obituary, but there are important dates and events to consider listing. Here are a few suggestions and guidelines:

1. Opening

- City of Residence
- Name
- Age
- Date and place of death
- Date and place of birth
- Parents
- Spouse, place, and date of marriage

2. Middle (Life Sketch)

- Where he or she was raised
- Education
- Places lived
- Profession
- Hobbies
- Interests
- Church or Religion

3. Survived and Preceded by

- He or She is survived by:
- Husband or Wife, Name;
- Children, Names (Spouses), where they live;
- Grandchildren, # or Names;
- Siblings, Names;
- He or She was preceded in death by:

4. Thanks

- The family would like to thank...
- In lieu of flowers...

5. Services

- Date and time of service
- Location and address of service
- Date and time of visitation
- Location and address of visitation
- Cemetery and interment info.
- Military honors

6. Serenity's Statement
