“ Carol was a fine lady and our great neighbor for the past 30 years or so. She and Don were made for each other. It has been hard to see her health decline so much in recent years, and she suffered very hard physical troubles. Don has been her guardian angel and a real example of a loving husband. We will miss her, but we are glad that she has been released from her pain and limitations and we believe she is enjoying many happy reunions with loved ones on the other side of the veil between this world and the next. May God bless both Carol and Don.
