“ Dave served as the first councilor in the bishopric when the bishop was working extended time out of state. Becky was the Relief Society president at the same time. These two stalwart souls hefted our ward on their shoulders! During this time, my husband's health plummeted. These two took us under their wings. All 4 of our own parents had passed, so these two were like parents to us. In the years since, they continued to give us parental advice. Dave went with me when I needed to purchase a car. He helped me find a reliable one in our price range. I will miss his gentle, kind, loving welcome, his listening ear, his thoughtful replies. Thank you, Dave, for letting Steve and me into your heart.

“ Dad, reading this is driving home that you're really gone. I was holding your hand when your spirit was called home, but it hasn't settled into me yet. Thank you for all the great memories we had together. You taught me how to ride a horse and shoot a gun. I remember all our trips to Disneyland and the mountain , I remember watching you break a horse and no matter how many times he bucked you off, you got right back on. So many memories recalled of your 27 years married to my mom Jamie, and even though you two divorced, you remained friends. Thank you for marrying Becky. She is the best Bonus Mom we could have ever asked for. I'll miss your dad jokes and your laugh. Love you pops❤️ -Sami
