

Elethra Sue Leavitt Thompson

August 28, 1943 - December 21, 2016

St. George, UT – Elethra Sue Leavitt Thompson, daughter of Dudley M. Leavitt and Evyrean Cox, died on Wednesday morning December 21, 2016, at home in St George, Utah. She was born at midnight August 27/28 1943, at Henderson, Nevada. She is a true descendant of Mormon Pioneer Heritage, a family historian who remembered all of our stories here in Southern Utah. She feels their pain and their sorrows. She rejoices with their triumphs and firm testimony in the Lord Jesus Christ. She knows our Savior as they know our Savior. There is a sweet reunion happening on the other side because she knows Every One. She was inspired by their example, to move past her struggles and become a missionary in Brazil, and a missionary couple in Monterey Mexico with her husband John Thompson. To be as an angel with the trump of God is always her wish.

She is a Scholar, Educator, Archeologist, Poet, Journal Keeper, Letter Writer, Shakespeare lover, World Traveler, Dancer, and is well steeped in the cultural arts now, and at every University she attended around the world.

She lived a life of Service, Children, and Missionary Work. She respected and loved her roles as Daughter, Sister, Wife, Mother, Grandmother, and Granddaughter. Her posterity will rise up and call her blessed for her selfless life of service, and her firm testimony and knowledge of her Lord Jesus Christ and His Gospel.

She is survived by her husband John Bernard Thompson- children Nannette Thompson and John Jr. Thompson (dec.) Former husband Charles Grandeson Curtis with children David Scott Curtis (Deborah) of St. George Utah; Megan Curtis of Oregon; Charles, Sarah and Crystal Curtis of Missouri.

Family-Helen Leavitt, siblings Bonnie (Henry Cook dec.) of Arkansas, Carrick Dudley Leavitt (dec.) (Martha, Kathi Baldwin (dec.), Berne Leavitt (Jan), Valeni Whitbeck (Terry), Trieste Bentley (Karl), Alton Coblenz Leavitt, and Dolene Hartlerode (Curtis), and 20 beloved grandchildren. Memorial TBD.

Tribute Wall

“ 6 files added to the album Mom & Family

Nanu Thompson - December 23, 2016 at 04:51 PM

“ Arrive in Style was purchased for the family of Elethra Sue Leavitt Thompson.

December 22, 2016 at 03:24 AM

“ My mother was and is truly a precious soul. She took all of us kids in and gave us life. I don't know what I would have never done without her. I love her and I'm going to miss her so much. I know it's one heck of a reunion up in heaven right now. I know she's shining down on each and every single one of us.. I owe everything to her. And what I wouldn't do just to tell her again and again just how much I appreciate and love her. Our heavenly father definitely didn't amazing job with this woman. And I am proud, so proud to call her my Mom. I miss you momma..

Crystal Curtis - December 22, 2016 at 12:03 AM

 Patti
Pierce

“ I have a fond memory she came to Oregon to see Megan and troy. We enjoyed conversation about our Lord and savior and how he was working in our lives♡ But I cherish the memories of the LOVE she displayed for her daughter and grandson, while she still made all my children feel truly special! 💕

Patti Pierce - December 21, 2016 at 10:34 PM

VW

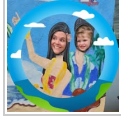

“ Our dear sister Susie was a loving and selfless person. She loved family so much and made the effort to attend weddings, reunions, and family gatherings even though her health made it difficult. She called often, just to stay in touch and traveled to visit us which we always enjoyed. We saw her just this past summer in Nauvoo when she came for the pageant. Wherever she went people were drawn to her sweet spirit. One woman came up and hugged her; others stopped to chat with her and find out more about how she was doing. She just had a special spirit about her. I cherish her as a sister and friend who was wise, fun and very down to earth. Her wonderful husband John was a faithful caretaker to her for many years and always tried to help her have the things she wanted to be happy. He is much loved and appreciated in our family. So grateful he came in to her life. We will miss her but know others are rejoicing to have her again with them. Valeni Witbeck

valeni witbeck - December 21, 2016 at 08:36 PM

CC

Beautiful... I sure miss my mom. No truer words then what u shared..
♡♡

Crystal Curtis - December 22, 2016 at 12:05 AM

She has a very positive and truly sweet spirit. It was always a pleasure to visit her. Even when she was struggling physically she still carried her strong optimistic spirit. She is truly an amazing woman.

Kirsten Ulvestad - December 22, 2016 at 03:14 PM