“ I remember Glen and I pushing strollers around Hill AFB during an air show. He had Michelle in his and I had Brandon in mine. So many fun memories. I am sorry I couldn't make it. Health issues keep me pretty homebound anymore. Love you all and my thoughts and prayers are always with you

“ Im so saddened to read this tonight in the news. Glen was my husband's caregiver for awhile, and my husband looked forward to Glen's day. Glenn went over and above the call the job title required. He would pick him up and take him away from home, which made my husband so very happy. He brought me photos of some of their outings, that mean so much to me. I have missed seeing him, and have wondered if he ever got over the tragic death of Rags. I hope Gidget helped. He had a halo before he left this life, and im sure Bob is happy to see him again. My condolences to you all, his family. 💔..Ilene Mackelprang
