He received the nickname "Pete" from his navy comrades and that's the name that stayed for the rest of his adult life. He was trained as a machinist in the military then went on to pursue that work for McDonnell-Douglas Aircraft, Phelps Dodge Mining, and Arizona Public Service.

He loved gardening, growing and photographing flowers, camping, bird watching, and fishing. He served many years as a leader in the Boy Scouts of America. He was baptized into The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1975 and served as a member of the Bishopric and on the High
