“ My fondest memory of Irvin is going into the chevron gas station on the corner of sunset and valley view in st.george and chatting it up over the best darn biscuits and gravy this side of the rio grand. He was so much fun to talk too. Soon after I met him he had me and my wife going on and selling youngevity. To this day my wife and I still take it everyday. We really developed a respect and love for he and Alice. I wish I new if she were still around and could chat with her sometime. Alice. If you see this please look me up on Facebook. Steven Cannon (Tina). I can imagine Irvin in heaven getting to know all the thankful people he and his wife have blessed over the years by introducing them to such a great, life saving, product. Rest in peace my friend! Love you forever! Steve
