Thank you for spending so much time and energy with my husband for the last 16 years. You were the father he never had and the closest friend he has ever known. He learned so much from you: woodworking, spinning, woodcarving, your stories, and your companionship.

Thank you for being a grandfather to our daughter. You taught her woodcarving, how to play a flute, and how to drive. Your patience and love are unending.

We love you!
