

John Lloyd Wright

June 27, 1946 - January 10, 2021

John Lloyd Wright, age 74, passed away in his home surrounded by loving family, Sunday, January 10, 2021 in St. George, Utah. He was born on June 27, 1946 in Salt Lake City to William Virgil and Rachel Janette Wright.

He is survived by his wife Christine, his children Carrie Wright Fischer (Gary Simonson), Troy Wright (Bonnie), Shauna Stokes (Gary), Diana Munn (Mike), Brent Lundstedt (JoDee), Mike Lundstedt (Shelley), fourteen grandchildren, four great grandchildren and Marley (cat).

John worked as a welding inspector for most of his life. He inspected everything from roller coasters to high rise buildings to race tracks. John was a certified member of the American Welding Society for many years.

John enjoyed spending time outdoors. He loved going to swap meets and could never pass up treasures. He enjoyed spending time with his children and making his grandchildren laugh.

The family would like to thank his incredible nurses from Sun Tree Hospice and Senior Helpers for showing John so much love.

John's Celebration of Life will be held on Sunday, March 21, 2021 beginning at noon at 1202 W. Wickham Drive, St. George, Utah 84790

“ I was so sorry to hear of John's passing. I visited with John many times when he lived in the Santa Fe development. His house was across from my mother's (Mary) house, and he and his wife, Chris, were so very kind to her and to me during those years. I was sad to see them move away. He was such a kind and neighborly man, always looking out for others and offering to help. Chris - I'm so very sorry for your loss. Sue
