“ To Jeanette and family,
I was privileged to know Larry from our commonality at Boise Cascade, seeing you both at our "annual" meetings, for some years. Even though we were separated by upward of a thousand miles, we were never distant from each other. When we'd see each other in person, he made me feel like I was the only person in the room, as everyone did. I loved hanging out with Larry, his zest and zeal for life's good things, described by Larry in such a way that you shared in his smile. What a gift he had, and we all were generously given this gift by one who was rich in love and peace within.

I can only hope that you and yours find some solace in this time of grief.
