“Lynnette was my massage therapy instructor over 12 years ago. Not only was she an absolutely GIFTED healer and teacher, her compassion and sensitivity were unmatched. I was going through a very traumatic divorce while I was in massage school and had a breakdown during class while receiving massage from a fellow student. Lynnette didn't miss a thing. She immediately whipped the curtains around our table and laid her hand on my head and shoulder. She waited for a moment for the sobs to abate, and then leaned down and whispered in my ear asking if I wanted the other student to continue. I nodded yes. After another moment or two, she whispered in my ear, "It's quite an experience to have a man touch you who doesn't want to hurt you, isn't it." I was so blown away that she KNEW exactly what was going on. That moment of my life was so profoundly healing, and it is one of my most cherished memories. Lynnette was my friend, my advocate, my cheerleader, and most of all... my guide. I am so deeply saddened to hear of her passing. I don't know of a soul who knew her who didn't love her. I am so happy she has moved on to a place where she is free and happy. I love you, Lynnette. Thank you so much for being a part of my life and my journey.
