“ I met Steven when I had a few unpaid parking tickets that I forgot to pay and ended up in Purgatory. I met Steven who was very humble inside jail and helped me through my worst times as it was my first and ONLY time I've ever been in jail. He too was in there for his past transgressions, and personally don't think he belonged in jail. But my best memory of Steven was after a phone call I got that had me feeling really down and I laid in my bed as if I was giving up and Steven walked up and grabbed my arm and said "No bro. We're not doing this! Get up bro. Walk with me!" And I did and he made it possible for me to stay positive during the lowest point in my life. I wish I would have met him outside of Jail. We would have definitely been closer friends. And I'll never forget him. Rest in Paradise Steven. You're in such a better place now. Pain free. And have your wings to fly as the Gaurdian Angel you are. Love you bro!
