“ I lived in Kayenta in the early 1990's and although I don't remember meeting Tommy, I do remember our association with his son, Corey, who has assisted my former husband and I for over 30 years with a wide variety of services. We began our friendship as he rode his bicycle up and deliver our newspaper! There is nothing he can't do. He exemplifies his father in being the very best and solving problems no one could ever figure out, his outstanding work ethic, his kindness to people and sharing all his talents and gifts he's developed with others. So Tommy's legacy lives on and I wish to extend my sympathies for a life well lived and may the memories you have made always sustain you. Barbara Anderson, ivins

“ I have too many memories of Tommy to list one that stands out is I stopped by his shop one day and he had just started watching the "Walking Dead" on his lap top and it hadn't even come out yet so he started it over and we watched the first episode of Walking Dead together before most everyone else.
Love you brother I'm going to miss you
Sincerely, Mike Wilson
